

2/11/21

Lecture #4)

constructor: used to initialize the "starting" values (initial data) of an object, in Java syntax, this is done using a constructor of a class.

To make an object type:

- 1) What's it called → class method
- 2) What data does it need → instance variables
- 3) What operations do we code? → methods

end of Lecture.